FRIDAY APEIL 14, 1876.

A PERPLEXED PIUTS.—[From the Reese River (Cal.) Receille.]—Somebody drepped some quicksilver on the sidewalk on Main street to-day, and an Indian tried to pick it up. First he made a grab with his thumb and forefluger, and was astonished when he found he couldn't pick it up. He was determined to have that quicksilver anyhow, so he unwound a handkerchief from his bat, and spreading it on the ground got a chip and scraped the quicksliver into it. A look of triumph shot from his eagle eye as he gathered up the four corpers of the bandkerchief, but it was replaced by one of horror and disgust when the metal by one of horror and disgust when though a ran through the fabric like water through a near Third street, with six rooms, mear Third street, with six rooms, mean through the six rooms, mean through the street, with six rooms, mean through the six uttering the ejaculation used by a kenofor some other untutored son of the forest to experiment with.
